A Note From the President

JAMES P. KUBACKI

Our school theme this year, "With All Your Heart," meshes seamlessly with Fr. Basil Moreau, CSC, and his famous quote: "The mind will not be cultivated at the expense of the heart."

If you've visited our campus recently, you have undoubtedly seen the expansion of the Joseph & Helen Lowe Center and the addition of the Ken Layden '80 Center for Innovation on the west end of campus. It's fitting that the Holy Family Chapel sits adjacent to those spaces - an outward symbol of St. Edward High School's commitment to tradition and innovation, to developing the whole person.

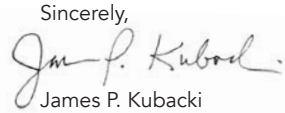
As you will read in this issue's cover story, our focus is on creating more than just programs of innovation, but a culture of innovation that permeates everything we do at St. Edward High School. We are called to develop students with the competence and courage to make an impact on the world in which they will be called to lead. Developing the mindsets and skill sets to put critical thinking, creativity, collaboration into action will continue to set Edsmen apart.

This issue also includes the 2016-2017 Annual Report. The tradition of St. Edward High School is evident in the pages of supporters who play such a foundational role in helping us to create the most impactful experience for our students. We are grateful for the generosity of every individual listed in the Annual Report. On behalf of our students, faculty and staff, I want to say THANK YOU! It is because you care, "With All Your Hearts" that we are able to pursue excellence within a foundation of traditional Gospel values.

Tradition and Innovation. We have long been known for our progressive approaches to innovation, and our culture of innovation will only be strengthened by the new additions to our campus. It is through that commitment to excellence in innovation that we will continue to honor the great tradition of our school.

We are fortunate to have you as a part of our community. We appreciate your commitment to working with us to develop the next generation of servant leaders. It's a great time to be at St. Ed's!

Sincerely,



James P. Kubacki
President

St. Ed's is coming to a city near you!

After 4 years at St. Edward High School, the hope for our students is to move on from the Nest and expand their wings to be servant-leaders in our community and in our world. They spread out near and far across the globe, remember their roots, and how proud they were, and still are, to represent the Green and Gold.

As time passes, memories can fade. But fortunately, proud St. Ed's Alumni continue to meet and share their stories of life as an Edsman. Many of these stories become legendary to their audiences! For alumni, what began as a Brotherhood in the halls of St. Ed's has expanded into connections all over the world.

Today, we continue to connect with our St. Ed's Alumni, alumni parents and friends in the community by visiting a variety of cities throughout the United States. It is a great opportunity to hear personal stories of the St. Ed's experience and share all of the great things that are happening at the school. Since August, President Jim Kubacki and members of the Advancement Team, along with the help of generous hosts, have brought Eagles on Tour to Naperville, IL; Indianapolis, IN; Boston, MA (hosts - Kathy and Dave McAvoy '73); Pittsburgh, PA (hosts - Elaine and Jim Buddie '77) and New York, NY (hosts - Sohita and Sush Torgalkar '95).

In March 2018, Eagles on Tour will be making its annual trip to Naples, FL with hosts Peg and Mike Cachat '66. Bettina Nugent, mother of Joe '96 and Rob '01, is already looking forward to it. "Walking into the Naples gathering is a wonderful feeling. Seeing so many people sharing fellowship, memories and laughs brings me in a little closer to the St. Ed's community in Lakewood, OH. Jim Kubacki's update on our wonderful Holy Cross school and the opportunities students are given in every aspect of their lives shows incredible vision to turn boys into men, 'With All Our Heart'."

Reconnect with Eagle Connect

St. Edward High School is excited to announce a new online resource for Alumni to network with each other called Eagle Connect. With so many online platforms vying for your attention, why is this one worth your time? With so many magazines and books available why are you reading this one? You care about St. Ed's, that's why!

This new networking platform will allow our Eagle Alumni to reconnect with old friends and network professionally. It will also enable Alumni to stay current with St. Ed's news in an ultra-convenient format. Eagle Connect is one example of how the value of a St. Ed's education extends beyond the time spent as a student.

Creating an account is fast, free and easy. Alumni can sign on using their email address, or sign up even faster by using their LinkedIn or Facebook account. Alumni can access the platform at sehsconnect.net or via the school's website at sehs.net and select the Alumni tab.

After logging in via a secure account, Alumni are presented with a news section, directory, jobs board and groups section. The news section pulls information from many of St. Ed's social media accounts and combines them into a single page for easy viewing. With one individual Eagle Connect account, Alumni are given convenient access to everything from the latest short films created by our students and faculty, to the very latest pictures from the school's Instagram and Flickr accounts and content from its Facebook and Twitter accounts. Eagle Connect will grow to become the most current and comprehensive location for Alumni information including job opportunities and details about Alumni owned and operated businesses.

St. Ed's most valuable resource is the people that make up our great community. The trusted network of St. Edward Alumni has all of the knowledge and connections needed to create life-long friends and valuable professional relationships. Eagle Connect is a convenient tool for Alumni to utilize this trusted network to its fullest potential. The brotherhood starts with four years but lasts forever. Join today!

If you have questions, feel free to contact Alumni Manager Kaleb Kaschalk '07 at kkaschalk@sehs.net or 216.221.3776 ext. 257.

CONNECTIONS

CREATING MEANINGFUL RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN GENERATIONS of EDSMEN

Connections is a multi-faceted program designed to help our students successfully move from high school, to college and into a fulfilling career. One of the features of the Connections program is the monthly "Pizza & a Profession" lunch-time speaker series where all students can learn about various career opportunities from those in our St. Edward community. Our goal is to educate and excite our students about future professions by tapping into the vast pool of professional experience found in our St. Edward Alumni community. Presenters are welcomed to campus to discuss their career with interested students who also get to enjoy pie from a local pizzeria. The informal atmosphere affords our students the chance to connect with professionals in an environment more akin to mentorship than mere networking.

Areas of professional focus are chosen by our college counseling department based on both student interest and research on what careers will be "in-demand" upon our students' graduation from college. Our Alumni Office then seeks out presenters in various stages of their careers, so students are given a wider perspective on the profession of topic.

The Sculptor

Embracing his passion and harnessing his exceptional talent, Jerry McKenna '56 is one of the world's most sought after sculptors

"I suppose I was always a closet sculptor, but I knew early on I had a gift." Acclaimed artist and sculptor Jerry McKenna '56 has received some of the highest honors for his esteemed works of art, but his sculpting talents, for which he is famous for, took many years to foster.

Born in Connellsville, Pennsylvania, McKenna grew up living in a trailer with his parents, constantly moving around America and attending over 20 schools. When his family eventually moved to Cleveland for his father to work as chief engineer on the construction of Cleveland's Nickleplate Railroad Bridge, McKenna attended St. Edward High School, but admits he wasn't the best student academically. "I was never known as a scholar, mainly because I moved around a lot growing up and I struggled with dyslexia, but one thing I knew I could do well was draw."

At the age of fourteen, McKenna had attended the Gertrude Herbert School of Art in Augusta, Georgia, where he began his formal study of art. Having already learned the art of charcoal drawing, pastels, and oil painting when arriving at St. Ed's, McKenna easily surpassed his fellow Edsmen in artistic talent. He went on to fulfill his lifelong dream and attended the University of Notre Dame, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Painting. During his summers in college, McKenna also attended weekend courses at the American Academy of Art in Chicago. Years later, he received his Master of Arts from Webster University in 1981. However, it wasn't until the age of 52 that McKenna started sculpting full-time.

In 1963, with no luck landing a permanent job after college, McKenna took the oath of office and joined the United States Air Force. Assigned as the executive officer in a forward air controller outfit in the Vietnam War in 1978, McKenna had limited time and few opportunities to create any art. "I did maybe a painting a year over 27 years during my time in the Air Force," said McKenna. "Whenever the occasion arose, I pulled out my brushes when I could and would create something quietly in the evenings."

During his service, McKenna was approached by his General to oversee the decoration of an auditorium in honor of McKenna's deceased Chief of Staff. When he noticed mistakes in the likeness of the colonel's sculpture, McKenna took matters into his own hands and began sculpting the piece himself. That night, he returned home to his wife and said, "I know what I want to do when I retire. I want to be a sculptor."

Despite having never taken any classes in sculpture before, McKenna purchased a block of clay the following day and started making his first piece. To learn more about sculpting techniques, he visited the San Antonio Art Institute and the Stevens Art Foundry in Bulverde, Texas. However, McKenna had to stop his newfound hobby when he was quickly reassigned as the Vice Commander of the 6950th Electronic Security Group stationed in England.

Once he retired five years later, McKenna hit the ground running as a full-time sculptor, creating memorable pieces including The Processional Cross for the Papal Mass for Pope John Paul II, three busts of the Eighth Air Force wartime leaders – General Ira Eaker, General Jimmy Doolittle and General Carl "Tooey" Spaatz, and a sculpture of Bob Hope. In 1994, his pieces where noticed by Tom Landry and Dan Coughlin '56, who recommended him to the Pro-Football Hall of Fame where he then worked for 10 years creating some of his most famous sculptures. To this date, McKenna has completed about 300 sculptures in the last 30 years.

"I've exponentially grown since I started sculpting. I can now work much faster and I can see more of the world to gain inspiration. I've never stopped learning." In fact, McKenna is currently enrolled in the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts in San Antonio,

"I suppose I was always a closet sculptor, but I knew early on I had a gift."

where he attends a course in pastel portraiture once a week. "I wanted to do this just because it's out of my comfort zone. I feel that if I branch out, it might enhance my abilities as a sculptor. Learning more about 2-dimensional color could benefit my work, even though I'm the only eighty year old in my class."

But McKenna's success never came without challenges.

"When I first started, I felt like an imposter. It took me years to get over that feeling. It takes time to grow into any role and that's the way I felt about being a sculptor," said McKenna. "Sculpting is not easy. It's like trying to sit down and play the violin for the first time. Although the basics came easy to me, learning beyond the basics was very difficult."

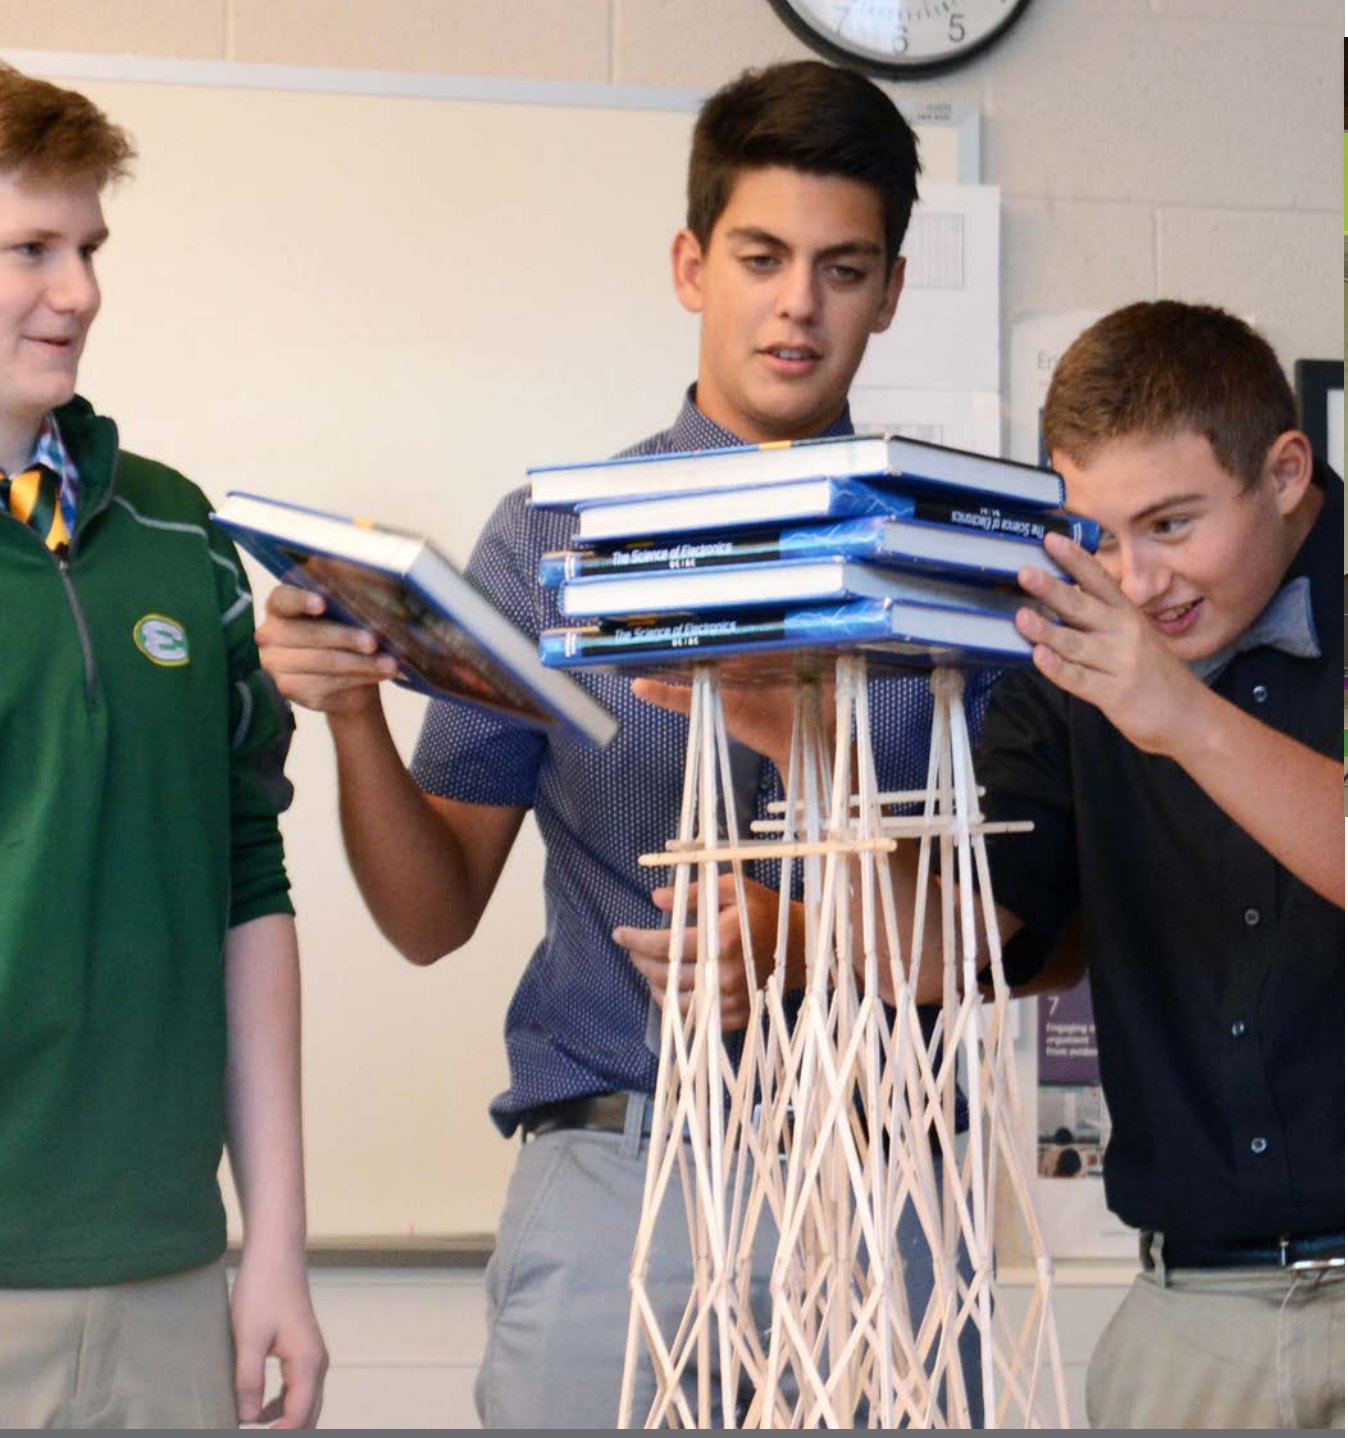
McKenna recounts a moment at St. Edward where he learned the power of perseverance from failure.

"At St. Ed's, I played football and my team lost our first game of the season. Despite our loss, we didn't give up and with the support of our coaches and the belief we had in each other, we ended up being an undefeated team for the rest of the season and were the first St. Ed's football team to ever beat St. Ignatius High School. That was a real lesson for us. We could've quit right after our first game, but we persevered." McKenna's perseverance led him to have a successful career as an artist and sculptor. "Between where I started and where I am now, I just couldn't help but grow through the years."

McKenna currently resides in Boerne, Texas with his wife Gail and has received many awards over the years, including the University of Notre Dame's 1962 Emil Jacques Medal of Fine Arts and the 2001 Rev. Anthony J. Lauck Award. After being awarded an Honorary ND Monogram by the Notre Dame National Monogram Club in 2001, McKenna was named the 2003 Sports Sculptor of the Year by the All-American Football Foundation. In 2014, the NCAA honored two of his sculptures in the Best Sculptures in College Football: "Ara Parseghian" as Number 5 and "The Four Horseman" as Number 1.

In 2000, McKenna graced St. Edward High School with one of his most remarkable works, an exact duplicate of the thirteen-foot Papal Crucifix that resides at McKenna's small parish, St. Peter the Apostle Church in Boerne. Showing gratitude for his Alma Mater and the Brothers of Holy Cross, McKenna's crucifix can be found overlooking the altar in St. Edward High School's Holy Family Chapel.

In the past year alone, McKenna has worked on 11 different projects, ranging from a football player sculpture soon to be placed this spring in front of Steubenville High School's stadium, to a four and a half foot Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy doll sitting on a bench in Illinois. From Voss, Norway to Chicago, Illinois to Kathmandu, Nepal, McKenna's sculptures and works of art can be found in churches, parks, museums and more around the world.



A Culture of INNOVATION

St. Edward High School is educating the next generation of thinkers, collaborators and makers

St. Edward High School aspires to develop the next generation of innovative thinkers. Armed with unparalleled competence and unrelenting courage, our students will seek to bring hope to others in the spirit of the school's Holy Cross mission and four pillars of faith formation, excellence, relationships and servant leadership. St. Edward High School takes an interdisciplinary approach to innovation through a rigorous curriculum focused on experiential, problem-based and project-based learning and challenges students to create new knowledge, ideas, approaches and solutions.

St. Edward students are taught to identify problems and opportunities, synthesize data and discover solutions; employ boundless curiosity, ask the right questions and persist in acquiring new skills and expertise, accepting that failure is part of the growth process; and they are comfortable with ambiguity, and as self-directed learners seek to explore multiple pathways to reach the best conclusion.

St. Edward students are also team-oriented leaders who collaborate with others and can articulate complex ideas through multi-channeled communication.

They are taught to be empathic, taking the time to actively listen and understand so they can affect positive change, underscored by an ethical and moral foundation.

The Ken Layden '80 Center for Innovation

As part of its commitment to innovation, St. Edward is currently constructing the new Ken Layden '80 Center for Innovation, as well as expanding its Joseph & Helen Lowe Center. The new Innovation Center will include:

- A state-of-the-art makers space to facilitate the engineering, design and prototyping processes
- The addition of four natural sciences labs that will push students to go beyond just learning science and approach their work as scientists
- An ideation space where students will bring their ideas to life in this adaptable area with access to the tools and expertise necessary to unleash their creativity
- Access to the latest instructional technology in all forms and a teaching and learning lab that will ensure St. Ed's remains on the cutting edge academically
- A launch and growth space that will support students bringing their ideas to market and the home to the Layden Program, the Social Entrepreneurship Immersion and Entrepreneurs-in-Residence

THE FUTURE OF ST. EDWARD HIGH SCHOOL:
ENHANCING A CULTURE OF INNOVATION

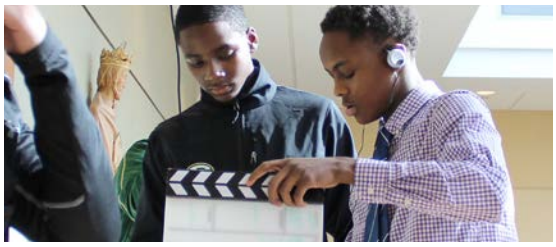
THE PROFILE OF A ST. EDWARD INNOVATOR:

1. St. Edward Innovators identify problems/opportunities, synthesize data and discover solutions.
2. St. Edward Innovators employ boundless curiosity, ask the right questions and persist in acquiring new skills and expertise, accepting that failure is part of the growth process.
3. St. Edward Innovators are comfortable with ambiguity, and are self-directed learners who seek to explore multiple pathways to reach the best conclusion.
4. St. Edward Innovators are team-oriented leaders who collaborate with others and can articulate complex ideas through multi-channeled communication.
5. St. Edward Innovators are empathic, taking the time to actively listen and understand so they can affect positive change, underscored by an ethical and moral foundation.

A CULTURE COMES TO LIFE:
ST. EDWARD PROFILES IN INNOVATION

Six snapshots that represent just some of the ways St. Edward's Culture of Innovation comes to life on our campus every day.

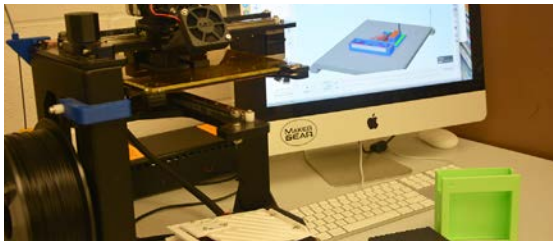
COLLABORATION: When sophomore geometry students were struggling to find real world implications for the properties of triangles, the St. Edward Math and Engineering Departments collaborated to develop a lesson on trusses to demonstrate how the congruency and trigonometric relationships can lead to the development of efficient load-bearing structures.



CREATIVITY: By 2019, 80% of all Internet bandwith will be video. The St. Edward Film Department has taken the lead in preparing students for their world by making them adept storytellers who can seamlessly combine creativity and technology to convey messages in unique and meaningful ways. The mindsets and skill sets being taught through the film curriculum will have an impact for life.

EXPLORATION: For students to have the competence to see and the courage to act, they must be given opportunities to explore the ways in which others are changing the world. Through St. Edward's new Social Entrepreneurship Immersion Program, students study successful social enterprises so they can discover how to best apply entrepreneurial principles to solving social challenges.

EXPERIMENTATION: Approaching science as a scientist is an early focus for the honors chemistry classes. The "spinning tube" experiment challenges students to approach problems without direction and requires that they hypothesize, investigate and create their own methodology in problem solving as St. Edward students find real answers through the investigative process of experimentation.



ENGINEERING, DESIGN & PROTOTYPING: When the St. Edward Technology Department needed a mount to help stabilize new desktop computers, they turned to the engineering students who designed and 3D-printed a solution that perfectly solved the problem. The St. Edward Engineering Program is preparing students to be successful in college and solve real-world challenges today.

LAUNCH & GROWTH: Construction on campus meant the space for the St. Edward Community Garden needed to be used to stage equipment. Garden Club students designed a mobile greenhouse solution that allows them to continue their work no matter the location. They are literally growing their business, as profits from this season's poinsettia sale will benefit the St. Edward Community Meal.

Coming Home

Thirty-five members of the St. Edward Faculty & Staff have returned to their Alma Mater to have an impact on the next generation of Edsmen

St. Edward High School prides itself on its exceptional faculty and staff members, whose commitment and dedication to their students and the community continues to grow throughout the years. Remarkably, one third of St. Ed's current faculty and staff are alumni who have returned to their alma mater as faculty, staff and administration to contribute to the strong brotherhood that connects the multiple generations of Edsmen.

After hearing how our faculty and staff alums remain committed to their alma mater through their work, it's no surprise why they return to the place they call home in order to give back and make a difference in the lives of St. Edward's past, present and future students.

"St. Ed's is different than any other school I have taught or coached at mostly because of the people that work here," says Mathematics teacher Dan Corcoran '07. "Once you walk through the doors here, whether as a student or as an adult, you're immediately welcomed and feel a sense of excellence. St. Edward High School is a place where anyone can do anything as long as they work hard. For many, St. Ed's is both a brotherhood and a family."

After being involved at the school for nine years and teaching for six years, David Keehan '90, Director of Innovation and Entrepreneurship has certainly made St. Ed's his home. "St. Ed's is responsible for so many good things in my life; my values, work ethic, faith, relationship with God, and my core foundation were all fostered at St. Ed's. I returned here as a teacher and coach because I think it's important to help today's generation learn the same values and principles that I received during my time at St. Ed's. I owe St. Ed's for helping me become the man I am today and I want to be a part of that for generations to come. Working here is more than a job for me, it's a part of who I am."

Being the youngest alum to currently work at St. Ed's, Mathematics teacher Matt Smith '12 shares what he believes has remained the same at St. Ed's since he was a student. "The one thing about St. Ed's that hasn't changed is its personal touch. Both as a student and now as a faculty member, I have experienced the unwavering support of my teachers and colleagues who have always made me feel welcomed. The hospitality of St. Ed's is what I think distinguishes it from other schools and workplaces. St. Ed's truly feels like a family to me. As a student, St. Ed's was a place where I felt that I grew significantly as a person. Even though the school has changed and improved a lot since I graduated a few years ago, it still feels like home."

As a former tenth grade Theology teacher and now serving as Vice President of Mission Effectiveness, Liam Haggerty '02 shares why working at his Alma Mater is meaningful to him. "I noticed in my early days of teaching here that I felt a special connection to the students as an alum; that we are all part of the same experience. The best part about working at the school I graduated from is that there's an extra level of investment added to my work. This isn't just a job because St. Ed's is personal to me and I know how special this place can be. I genuinely care about St. Ed's and I want my Alma Mater to be a place that I can continue to be proud of. It's a place where I can truly immerse myself, a place to pour myself into, a place to serve God and others, and a place to find community."

"The foundation of a solid education from St. Ed's has enabled me to understand the meaning of hard work and the importance of a strong faith and understanding in God," says Major Gifts Officer, Tim Isabella '88. "I am forever grateful to have been a student at St. Ed's. This place defines who I am today and has allowed me to come back and serve the needs of the students who have and will come after me. It has been a true blessing to work and speak with other alumni every day who really believe and support our Holy Cross mission here at St. Ed's."

Alumni Relations Manager, Kaleb Kaschalk '07 elaborated on what it means to work as part of the faculty and staff at St. Edward High School. "The decision to work at St. Ed's is a commitment to service and putting others before yourself. Working here means sacrificing for the greater St. Ed's community while being surrounded by people who choose others ahead of themselves. Our Holy Cross hospitality is and has always been a constant here."

As servant leaders, faculty and staff members embody the Holy Cross mission at St. Ed's and serve as constant role models to show students the importance of working together, with and for others.

"To me, the core values of faith, excellence, relationships, and servant leadership at St. Ed's have remained constant through the years," says Pre-Engineering teacher, JC Froelich '08. "By continuing to uphold these values, we are developing competent young men to go out into the world and promote good values. The most rewarding part about working at St. Ed's has been seeing the growth of the students. I enjoy coming to work every day to help students achieve their goals and aspirations in life and I am committed to St. Ed's because of the students and the values I believe we are instilling in them."

When asked what keeps him connected and devoted to St. Ed's, Vice President of Institutional Advancement, Paul Mocho '85 explains why he returned to his Alma Mater. "When my position opened up, I was immediately drawn to come back to this school. I was looking for an opportunity to work in an environment that I truly believed in and that was making a difference in the world. The more I thought about it, the more I realized how much I wanted to come back here."

From the time many of our alums once walked the halls of St. Edward High School as students, campus facilities have been reconstructed and redesigned while new courses and program opportunities have been offered to create an even better educational experience for current and future Edsmen. Now working at their Alma Mater, our alums are able to physically see the ways St. Ed's has improved over the years and how it continues to change every day.

"Seeing the advancement in engineering, innovation, film and other electives gives students more opportunities now that I wish I could have had while attending St. Ed's," says Mr. Corcoran. "Every day I see students get more excited for the opportunity to grow through the new curriculum."

Mr. Isabella adds, "The way St. Ed's has changed from when I was a student is truly night and day from my perspective. Today, there are more opportunities that focus to make our Edsmen more well-rounded and better human beings. They are given more choices academically, are taught to think critically through advanced methods of learning, have become more disciplined athletically, and are more conscious to serve the needs of others and become more informed on global issues. St. Ed's overall has made a conscious effort to create a more opportunistic learning environment for our students."

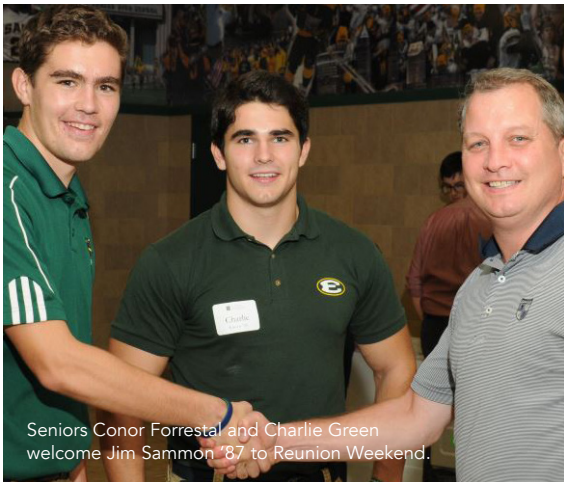
"Since I was a student, St. Ed's has changed by offering more specialized classes and programs for students to get a better idea of the world around them. New extracurricular activities and more sports programs have also met the changing interests of our students," says Mr. Keehan. "By constantly improving, St. Ed's continues to grow and never become complacent which I think is important in today's world."

Mr. Haggerty adds, "I think our aspirations are higher today than when I was a student. Under Jim Kubacki's leadership as our school's President, we are truly focused on living out all four pillars of our mission and we are constantly challenged to be better than we were yesterday."

Starting from the Class of 1966, currently thrity-five St. Ed's alums have returned to their alma mater to give back and contribute to the growth of the school, to share their talents in the place that helped foster them, to teach and develop today's students through the values and beliefs of the Holy Cross mission, and to live out what it means to truly be an Edsman.

ST. EDWARD HIGH SCHOOL

CLASS AMBASSADORS



Seniors Conor Forrestal and Charlie Green welcome Jim Sammon '87 to Reunion Weekend.

A special part of the Alumni connection is all of the shared experiences we had as St. Ed's students. From memories of your favorite Holy Cross Brother, to rallies with Eagle Man, to up-down stairs, stories about the sub-basement, to artifacts in the Brother Bennett Museum, St. Ed's wants to preserve these memories and connections among Alumni. An important step in maintaining this Eagle connection is regular communication between classmates and the school. The St. Edward Advancement Department recently created a network of Class Ambassadors to help facilitate the flow of information and promote positive relationships between alumni.

There are over 15,000 living St. Ed's Alumni, all with their own unique journeys after graduation. From new friends and families to hobbies and homes, there is a time after high school where change is constant. St. Ed's has changed over the years as well, with new buildings, programs and stories to tell.

Having accurate contact information on our alumni is a challenge and this is where the Class Ambassadors can help. The Ambassador role is to be a conduit of information between the class and St. Ed's, helping make sure we have the most up to date information on each class member. St. Ed's will provide Class Ambassadors with noteworthy information to share with their class and in turn, will share information that the Ambassadors have on their classmates. St. Ed's recognizes that each class is different in the way that they prefer to communicate, and it is our hope that Ambassadors will have the most accurate temperature on the preferred method for their class. We have resources like Eagle Connect available to aid communication, but also know that some class years prefer sitting down with cold beverages to catch up.

St. Ed's is grateful for the commitment of the Class Ambassadors who have volunteered to help the flow of communication between the school and alumni. For those class years without an Ambassador, we are seeking volunteers interested in reaching out to their classmates. If you have questions, feel free to contact Alumni Manager Kaleb Kaschalk '07 at kkaschalk@sehs.net or 216.221.3776 x257.

WE ARE ST. ED'S

On September 29, 2016, St. Edward High School announced The Courage To Act Campaign, an $18 million initiative that focuses on Hospitality, Innovation and Affordability.

In explaining why this Campaign is so important to St. Edward, President Jim Kubacki stated, "The essence of the St. Edward experience is to provide the foundation of faith and character that will not only define our young men, but more importantly, guide them to lead lives of purpose and of service to others. We form the young men our world needs most."

To date, the campaign has raised a total of $17 million. The generosity of the St. Edward Community continues to be the hallmark of our success as a Holy Cross institution. In response to the early success of the Campaign, the Board of Trustees recently approved raising the goal to $20 million to better position St. Ed's to achieve all of the campaign goals.

What is truly inspiring is the tremendous Campaign support provided by our Trustees, Faculty and Staff. "The Trustees were fully behind this Campaign and wanted to make a strong statement about the importance of these three Campaign goals. We are a very committed group of men and women who are excited about the future of St. Ed's," said Board Chair, Dan Geib '76. Similarly, the Faculty and Staff work hard to make a difference in the lives of our Edsmen. When approached to support the campaign, it was not a surprise to see 100% participation by each member of the school who work diligently to make the Holy Cross mission come alive each day.

The work of great schools is never complete. We are always looking forward – peeking over the horizon to prepare our students to excel in the world in which they will live, work and serve. We are proud of the school we are and the school we strive to be in order to better serve our community. We are grateful to those on the following pages who have made the campaign a philanthropic priority and look forward to continuing the conversation with many more.

The Courage To Act Campaign will be transformational in significantly improving the landscape of our campus and in providing the best education possible for our young men.

CAMPAIGN SPOTLIGHT:

TIM MCCORMICK '58

St. Edward High School has played an important part in the lives of the McCormick Family. Tim McCormick '58 attended St. Ed's, along with his two brothers, Terry '57 and Kevin '66. It was a happy time in the lives of the McCormick Family and they were very proud to be Edsmen. Tim reflected about those early days and shared, "how blessed we were that our parents, with only grade school educations, believed in the importance of Catholic education and worked so hard to provide it. Dad worked sometimes two and three jobs in this regard to support his family."

Tragically, Tim's youngest brother Kevin died in 2016. To honor him, Tim established an endowed scholarship in his memory to help future St. Ed's students. When he heard about The Courage to Act Campaign, Tim felt that supporting this effort would be an especially meaningful remembrance of his parents who had a very strong conviction for the value of catholic education. The McCormick Family Plaza will be a great addition to the landscape of St. Ed's.

Tim commented, "I have always been deeply impressed by the dedication, motivation and sacrifice of those that go into the field of teaching. It was true when I went to St. Ed's, and considering the advancements the school has made, I am sure it is true today." Tim mostly had Holy Cross brothers as his teachers. While they were all great, he recalled with fondness Br. Charles Krupp, Br. John Ryan, Br. Gerald Fitzgerald, Br. Louis Gazagne and Br. Albert Harrigan (who more than once shouted out to him, "Monsieur McCormick, fermez votre bouche" which in English means "close your mouth.") Similar to St. Ed's today, he also had great lay teachers like, Mr. Nieberding; Mr. Sharp, who introduced him to the poetry of Robert Frost; and the Prcela brothers, John and Paul, who taught him Latin.

Tim says that it is always a joy to learn about the latest news from St. Ed's. He is impressed and proud of the academic offerings, the focus on servant leadership and the quality of our extra-curricular programs.

"St. Ed's serves to teach students to live a life of purpose, of contribution to the common good, of respect for the dignity of all people, and of not losing sight of the goal of our time here on earth."

Tim never tries to forget the old adage: "Of those to whom much is given, much is expected." St. Ed's was there for him and his family, and he feels an obligation to do his part, to help insure that St. Ed's continues to thrive for the Edsmen who follow in his footsteps. Tim looks forward to seeing the future successes of St. Ed's as it continues to live out its Holy Cross mission.

CAMPAIGN SPOTLIGHT:
THE ROUCHARD FAMILY

When a job transfer landed the Rouchard family in Cleveland, they knew what type of education they wanted for their sons Christopher '06 and Peter '07. Mark and Mary Ellen Rouchard were both products of single-sex Catholic institutions and believed strongly in the value of a mission-based education. They toured the options and knew that St. Ed's had the culture and welcoming environment they wanted for their family.

"We interviewed other all-boys Catholic high schools in the area and we knew right away that St. Ed's had the culture that we were looking for. We knew then, and we know now, that we made the right choice," said Mark.

The family became involved in the St. Ed's community very quickly. Christopher joined the swim team and Peter the newly formed lacrosse program. Mark was asked to join the St. Edward Board of Trustees and both Mary Ellen and Mark chaired the 2006 and 2007 Wings Auction. Having just moved into the Cleveland area, the Rouchard family was very active and involved. When asked to elaborate on why, Mark said, "We strongly believe in the value of a Catholic education and want to do everything we can to support that. Our boys had a wonderful experience at St. Ed's and we are forever grateful for that."

Unfortunately, for St. Ed's, another job transfer moved the Rouchards away from Cleveland, but St. Ed's remains forever in their hearts. Mark and Mary Ellen continue to support the Annual Fund and Wings Auction and recently made a commitment to The Courage to Act Campaign in support of the new Ken Layden '80 Center for Innovation. Mark praised President Jim Kubacki for bringing about a change that was transformational to the value of a St. Edward education and the future of St. Ed's.

"When I read the announcement of The Courage to Act Campaign, I was blown away by the boldness and vision of the Board to undertake such a remarkable program. I knew right away that I wanted to support this Campaign and help ensure its success. I strongly believe in St. Ed's mission and I think this Campaign will continue to provide the young men of St. Ed's with an unparalleled educational experience."

CAMPAIGN SPOTLIGHT:

THE BETSILL FAMILY

Hailing from parts outside of Northeast Ohio, Mary and David Betsill were not familiar with St. Edward High School. That all changed when their son Jimmy decided to be an Edsman, Class of 2018. Jimmy is now in his 3rd year as manager of the Eagle football team, participates in Model UN and has travelled with fellow Eagles to Australia and Spain. When asked about a favorite teacher, Jimmy replied, "Mr. Wallenhorst – not only for what he teaches in class, but because like a lot of faculty, he teaches us how to be Edsmen." Jimmy added, "Going into my senior year, I have really come to understand what it means to be an Edsman, and I am so proud of it."

Mary and David Betsill are equally proud and grateful for their son's St. Edward experience. "Jimmy has thrived at St. Ed's. There is nothing more valuable than the development of the heart, mind and soul of one's child. This great school has been an integral part of that development and watching Jimmy grow, both intellectually and spiritually, has been so rewarding. St. Ed's has helped Jimmy build the foundation for future success – and that is priceless."

Members of the Holy Cross Society since Jimmy's freshman year, the Betsill family has continually made St. Ed's a philanthropic priority and were among the first parents to support The Courage to Act Campaign. "St. Ed's commitment to excellence requires a continued focus on institutional growth and innovation. Having the proper facilities to support that growth and innovation is fundamental to St. Ed's success. It's exciting to be part of this next phase of growth for St. Ed's."

With a belief in paying it forward, they added, "Our gifts to St. Ed's are equal parts gratitude and investment. Gratitude for the exceptional high school experience our son received and an investment in the next generation. We firmly believe that each of us has an obligation to build the future for the next generation."

Annual Fund Reaches $1 Million

For the first time in the school's history, the St. Edward Annual Fund surpassed $1 million raised for the 2016-2017 fiscal year. We are so grateful for the generosity and support of every member of the St. Edward Community who contributed to surpassing this year's goal by more than $50,000 - dollars that directly benefit our students every day.

At the end of the fiscal year, we shared St. Ed's "Strength in Numbers" - many of the important numbers that push our community toward excellence. Reaching this $1 million milestone is a testament to that strength. Consider the strength of the following Annual Fund numbers that helped us surpass our goal:

- 75% of gifts came from St. Ed's Alumni
- Current parents alone contributed over $100,000
- Alumni from all 63 graduating classes participated
- 266 gifts were made from first-time donors
- 32 new members joined the Holy Cross Society
- St. Ed's faculty, staff and Board of Trustees reached 100% participation

The growth of the St. Edward Annual Fund has dramatically expanded the impact we are able to have as a Holy Cross school. This year we distributed the most need-based tuition assistance in the school's history; invested the most in faculty and staff professional development in the school's history; and offered more academic, faith-based, athletic, arts and extracurricular opportunities than we ever have in the school's history.

THANK YOU FOR GIVING – YOU MADE A DIFFERENCE!

Faculty & Staff Give 100%

St. Ed's has experienced tremendous growth over the past five to seven years. With increased enrollment and initiatives to expand its variety of programs and opportunities, the school has also focused on securing its financial strength. While the Annual Fund, the life-blood of fundraising efforts, remained a priority, St. Ed's also embarked on a capital campaign.

"Ensuring the success of simultaneous campaigns is not easy," says Paul Mocho '85, VP of Institutional Advancement, "but from the beginning, we had faith in the strength and generosity of the St. Ed's community."

That strength was evident in the show of support from those community members closest to the school – the faculty, staff and Board of Trustees. The 2016-2017 Annual Fund reached new heights, with gifts surpassing $1 million for the first time in school history. The faculty, staff and Board of Trustees showed their support with 100% participation in the Annual Fund.

The Courage to Act Campaign met with equal success. The St. Edward Board of Trustees was the first group to step up and show their support of the Campaign. It was vital to have 100% backing of the Board prior to reaching out to the greater community.

With the full support of the Board, the faculty and staff campaign was launched, headed by volunteer chairs - Admissions Manager Maureen Ashdown and Mathematics Faculty Member Brian Ansberry '99. Faculty and staff members attended Campaign information sessions and were invited to ask questions and provide valuable feedback. The St. Ed's faculty and staff have a front-row seat to all that is happening at St. Ed's. It is important for them to understand the purpose, structure and goals of the Campaign. Many faculty and staff members are heavily involved in the most specific details, but it was important that each and every person feel personally connected.

Everyone in the building is affected by the components of the Campaign and all in different ways, but "our community is about togetherness" says Brian Ansberry, "we all take a genuine interest in each other and are all striving to transform the lives of our Edsmen."

Ansberry points out that once armed with the details of the Campaign, the faculty and staff, as always, "were willing to go above and beyond the call to serve the students and the community." While not surprised, Brian and Maureen were thrilled to claim victory and announce 100% participation by their colleagues. Maureen remarked, "I think it sends a message that we work as a team and that St. Ed's is not just our jobs, but it is a place we consider home."

Alumni By Class Year

St. Edward alumni selflessly give their time and talent, contributing directly to the success of their Alma Mater. Alumni take great pride in seeing their school excel and they know that their support is crucial to St. Edward's future. Their generous support during the 2016-2017 school year can be seen on the following pages, demonstrating their belief in a Holy Cross education. By contributing these needed dollars, St. Edward graduates transform the daily life of our Edsmen and their Alma Mater.

Annual Fund Spotlight: Brian Gaul ’79

At every sporting event there is a fan who claps harder and screams louder than the rest. These super fans give their all to cheer their team on to victory. Brian Gaul is one of those super fans, and his team is his St. Ed’s Class of 1979.

Brian is grateful for his St. Ed’s experience, and with relatives graduating from St. Ed’s in six different decades, including his son Kevin Gaul ’12, Brian has witnessed the continued growth of the school and the need for alumni support. Brian credits his competitive drive and determination back to his time spent at St. Ed’s as a student in the late 1970’s, and in February of 2017, Brian saw an opportunity to again lead the cheers for his Class.

The February Class Challenge is an opportunity for graduating classes from St. Ed’s to compete against each other on an even playing field. The competition determines which class has the highest percentage of Annual Fund donors participating within the month of February. The size of the gift is secondary and the goal, in addition to raising funds for St. Ed’s, is to show alumni that their participation on every level has meaning and impact.

Two weeks into the February Class Challenge, Brian noticed his Class of 1979, his pride and joy, was tied for last place. That revelation sparked a fiery email to his classmates that stressed the importance of giving back to St. Ed’s in gratitude for their own St. Ed’s education. Brian set forth knowing that his Class was a “great one” and a “sleeping giant.”

The Class of 1979 awoke to Brian’s motivating messages that he sent every other day until the month of February was over. Brian messaged his classmates through every medium he could get his hands on. What started as frustration evolved into competition and eventually ended in success. The Class of 1979 banded together and finished in the top three classes for the 2017 February Class Challenge.

When the smoke cleared, Brian realized that it was fun to reconnect with his classmates while making a meaningful impact at St. Ed’s. Brian believes the St. Ed’s family is a lifetime connection and enjoyed reaching out to both familiar friends and distant classmates. His passion for St. Ed’s is clear and his praise for his Alma Mater is bold. He believes in the mission of the school, and the school believes in alumni like him.

Celebrating 20 Years of the Wings Auction!

"Just throw a great party and make sure people have a lot of fun, and the rest will take care of itself."

This was Jim Kubacki's formula for a successful Wings Auction event when the Wings tradition began in the 1996-1997 school year...and it has worked for 20 years!

Wings Auction 2017 ~ The Magic of Motown ~ I Just Want to Celebrate was a milestone year for the annual event, as it marked 20 years of the St. Ed's community coming together to CELEBRATE our Eagle family and to raise critical funds for student financial aid and scholarship and programs. Since its inception more than $4.5 million has been raised for our Edsmen, while generating Green & Gold spirit and lots of fun memories!

The people of the St. Ed's community ~ alums, parents, students and friends ~ make the Wings Auction special, memorable and successful. Let's hear from some of the folks that have left their mark on the St. Ed's event of the year!

What was it like planning the very first Wings Auction with Co-Chairs Amy Kubacki and Besty Bridge?

After the administration was on board to do an auction, and approached us to organize it, we immediately got started. We had to find a name, a symbol, a theme. We had to build an organization from the ground up. So, the way we did it was to work, work, work, and then work some more. It truly was a huge undertaking. I think Amy, Betsy and I were a good team because we believed we could do it and we focused on making Wings a success. It certainly helped that we liked and respected each other. We even managed to have some fun in the midst of all the work. It was very satisfying to see the way students, parents and alumni joined in that first year to make Wings a success. How wonderful that the Ed's family still joins in to make Wings a success 20 years later!

Karen Huber
Co-Chair of Wings 1996 ~ I Just Want to Celebrate
Parent of Jeff '00

The Wings Volunteers are a critical part of the event's success. What motivates you to volunteer every year for the Wings Auction?

Sue and I have six sons who graduated from St. Ed's with an excellent education, and working the Wings Auction each year is just a way of giving back to the school. It is wonderful to know that the proceeds from the auction help provide an education to those students in need of financial assistance.

The St. Edward community is like a family that I am happy to be a part of. I would also like to add my gratitude to all of the volunteers that make this event a huge success.

John Wilgus
20-year volunteer of the Wings Auction
Parent of Mike '95, Chris '96, Dave '99, Joe '01,
Steve '03, and Brian '05

You have been on center stage for many of the Auctions as our MC. Do you have a favorite memory? What is the energy like during the Live Auction?

There have been many magical moments during the Live Auction. For instance, invariably there were head-to-head battles between two people who really wanted something, such as the New York City Adventure with Michael Symon '87. A frantic bidding war ignited! Auctioneer Bob Hale's head was on a swivel as he went back and forth between two bidders who matched each other all the way up to $13,000. As fate would have it, Michael was in the audience that night and spontaneously he grabbed the microphone and announced that if the two protagonists agreed, they could both have it. He would host the trip twice. There were two happy winners. Although, more correctly, St. Ed's was the biggest winner to the tune of $26,000!

On a more personal note during Wings, I have memories come back to me of my parents pinching pennies to pay my freshman tuition in 1952. It was $85. It made me quietly thank the teaching brothers who donated their salaries back to the school.

Dan Coughlin '56
Wings Auction Master of Ceremonies

What was it like to present to a sold-out Wings crowd as a senior in high school (in a powder blue suit with a white ruffle shirt)?

Presenting at Wings 2015 was a great way to cap off my St. Ed's experience. It forced me to reflect on the ways I had grown and changed during my time at the school. And when I shared those ways with the people at the auction, I hit a nerve — everyone, it seemed, felt the same. For weeks after, alumni and fellow students would see me around and mention a particular line of my speech that had resonated with them. What I learned was this experience of deep pride and respect for my school wasn't unique or personal at all. It was a shared experience with all of my classmates, and we were living it together. To be given the chance to have that kind of revelation, while helping the school I love raise money and provide this opportunity to more students, was a perfect way to conclude my time at St. Eds.

Mack Hogan '15
Wings 2015 Student Presenter

You have Co-Chaired the Wings Auction for the past three years. What inspires you about the Wings Auction?

We have been attending the Wings Auction for seven years and have always enjoyed the atmosphere and excitement of the actual event. But it wasn't until we were fortunate enough to become Co-Chairs in 2014 that we fully appreciated the Wings Auction!

We have been truly inspired with the array of volunteers and the extreme generosity of the entire community!

The success of Wings 2017 ~ The Magic of Motown was led by our amazing event Chairs (from left to right): Jim Fox '86, Megan Fox, Kristine Viancourt, Bud Viancourt '83, Kristin Connaughton and Pat Connaughton. Their efforts, along with the generosity of the St. Ed's community, helped raise nearly $590,000 in net dollars for our Edsmen. We are grateful to our Wings sponsors, patrons and volunteers for their dedication and support in making the Magic of Motown a night we will never forget!

But the most inspiring aspect of Wings is the fact that 100% of our proceeds, year after year, give many young men the opportunity to attend St. Ed's who otherwise might now have the resources to do so. This, itself, is what inspires us to be involved with Wings!

What stands out from the St. Ed's Wings Auction from all of your other events?

The deep-rooted support is beyond anything I have seen at any private school. It is simply amazing. It is not just the parents of today who support the Auction. It is alums from all classes and past parents coming together to raise money for the young men of St. Edward. It really blows me away!

Bob Hale
Professional Auctioneer

The Cleary Family has been loyal leadership-level sponsors of the Wings Auction. What motivates you?

We continue to support St. Ed's and the Wings Auction year after year because we believe in what the school is doing and the need seems to be greater than ever. We think it's important to help those students get to St. Ed's who otherwise wouldn't be able to without some kind of financial help.

Tim Cleary '67 and John Cleary '73
Wings Auction Title Sponsors

A trademark of the Wings Auction is its annual theme. Is there one that stands out? How do you stay so creative?

There are a number of themes that stand out to me and it's very difficult to pick just one . . . so I won't.

The first time that I really had an opportunity to go a little crazy with the entrance of the school was "At the Hop" (2003.) I had this idea to build a supersize jukebox at, and over, the front doors. More than a couple of people thought I had lost my mind, but I was committed (or maybe should have been!) The jukebox turned out very well and I think that is when we really started to set the theme at the front doors.

Some of my other favorites have been "Haunted High School," then a fall event just before Halloween (2004); "Escape to Paradise," we bought Hawaiian-style shirts for all the boys (2009); and of course, "Rock and Roll All Night," it is always great when I get to work on lighting (2013)!

I am constantly inspired by all the folks that I work with, both our volunteers from the Decorations Committee and the Advancement Team. I love to hear others' thoughts about our themes and then it's fun to make those ideas a reality.

I have worked on every auction held at St. Ed's. The first year, Amy Kubacki called and asked me if I could light up the silent auction tables. After that first year, I was hooked. The excitement in the room on auction night is second only to the love and energy that so many people put into making the night awesome! Even in our "lean" years (the recession), everyone involved worked so hard to raise money for "our boys."

Wings 2017 was your first Wings Auction as a volunteer, what did you take away from it? What did you enjoy most from your experience?

The Wings Auction was a great way to be "backstage" at St. Edward. To be part of the team of staff, volunteers and students working together to make something happen was an amazing way to get to know people, to get to know where all the bathrooms are, to explore the paint section of the scene shop, to learn how to thread ribbons through records – but most of all to get to make new friends and feel a bit of the passion and commitment that our sons feel for their school.

Wings 2017 ~ First-time members of the Decorations Committee

Our Student Ambassadors play a huge role at the Wings Auction. They serve as greeters, valet drivers, servers, bid helpers, presenters and many other roles. What is it like working with our student ambassadors the night of Wings?

One of the highlights of my school year, every year, is working the Wings Auction alongside our Student Ambassadors. Each student has an important role to play in the evening. It is my job, along with Mr. Liam Haggerty '02, to make sure that the students are in the right position when they need to be, but that they are also having a blast while they are there. Our students thrive off each other and the positive energy in the room, so I try to build that up as much as I can.

At the end of the day, the Wings Auction exists to support our students and their programs. It is important to me that all of our guests see the love that our students have for their school and each other. This love is easily displayed when you see students working hard, but having fun!

I also worked the Wings Auction for three of my four years as a Student Ambassador. As a highly social student, it was fun to catch up with my classmates, teachers, and parents' friends in a setting that was different than where I would typically see them.

Many thanks to the St. Ed's Community for 20 Years of the Wings Auction! Save the date for Wings Auction 2018 on Saturday, April 28!

2016-2017 Statement Of Operations

St. Edward's fundraising efforts and endowment growth are critical to the success of the school's Holy Cross mission. They support many aspects of academic life at the school, including financial assistance for deserving students, curriculum development, faculty salaries, extracurricular activities, and service programs, among many other areas. Net tuition income covers approximately 75% of the actual cost of educating each student. The remaining 25% of revenue generated to meet St. Edward's annual operating budget comes from fundraising, endowment income, and auxiliary revenue.

While we are pleased to report good numbers, we recognize that we could not have accomplished this without the generous support of our community. Special purpose gifts, gifts to the endowment that provide annual income, and annual fund gifts made directly to operations supplement the operating revenues, helping to maintain a reasonable tuition and fee schedule and supplementing our financial aid budget. From the Board of Trustees to the faculty and staff, all constituents have been strategic in making the most of each dollar spent.

Ways To Give

The role of the Institutional Advancement Office is to plan and oversee the implementation of advancement programs supporting the school's major constituencies (alumni, parents, grandparents, foundations and corporations) in support of St. Edward High School's four-pillared mission of faith formation, excellence, relationships and servant leadership. These programs are designed to promote volunteerism, long-lasting relationships, and philanthropy that will culminate in successful fundraising activities to meet the short- and long-term needs of the school.

There are many ways to participate in the St. Edward High School community and to contribute needed resources that are vital to the success of our students and school.

Volunteerism

Volunteer support helps to build some of the most distinctive qualities of St. Edward High School, such as shared values, hospitality, a sense of community and common purpose, and a dedication to the virtues of servant leadership. As a volunteer, you are the backbone of many of our successful endeavors. Volunteers create lasting friendships among their peers and serve as role models to our students. Some of the many available opportunities include participating in Annual Fund phonathons, supporting Admission Office activities, serving on one of the parent or alumni volunteer organizations, and helping to support special events such as the annual Wings Auction.

Philanthropy

Donors can make a charitable contribution to St. Edward High School in a variety of ways:

Annual Fund Gifts

Gifts made to the Annual Fund are unrestricted to meet today's needs. Your gifts enrich a St. Edward education by supporting need-based financial assistance, curriculum initiatives, technology upgrades and enhancements, extracurricular programming, student performances, physical education and athletics, and competitive salaries to retain the best teachers.

Cash

Outright gifts by check or cash are immediately available for the school's use in implementing a wide variety of programs and initiatives, in addition to supporting the daily life of St. Edward High School. Not only are cash gifts highly effective in enhancing the school, but they also offer benefits to the donor and may be deductible on federal income tax returns. Each donor should consult with a tax adviser based on his or her individual circumstances.

Credit Cards

Many donors prefer to pay by credit card to take advantage of various credit card promotions, such as frequent flyer miles and other reward programs. We accept MasterCard, Visa, Discover, and American Express. The same tax benefits apply.

Recurring Gift

A recurring gift is an ongoing, specific gift amount determined by a donor that is charged monthly to a donor's credit card or checking account. Your love for St. Edward is second nature. Now, showing your support can be just as automatic. Setting up a recurring gift is convenient, customizable and environmentally friendly. Most important, recurring gifts are a dependable source of support that St. Edward can count on throughout the year. Recurring gifts are an easy way to make a big impact that works for your budget and schedule. For example, you can become a member of the Holy Cross Society with a monthly gift of just $167.

Securities and Real Estate

Outright gifts of long-term appreciated securities and real estate held 12 months or more can result in a significant tax savings for the donor. For tax purposes, the value of the gift is its fair market value on the day it is given. Because you are not required to pay capital gains taxes on the appreciation of the stock, the actual cost to you is far less than the real value of your gift to St. Edward High School. You receive an income tax deduction for the full, fair market value of the gift, generally up to 30% of your adjusted gross income.

Planned Gifts

Planned gifts – such as bequests, gifts from retirement plans, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, charitable lead trusts, and life insurance policies – have future benefits for St. Edward High School. Donors making such commitments are members of the Br. John William Donoghue, C.S.C. Legacy Society.

Pledges

Donors may make pledges to the Annual Fund payable by June 30. Donors also may spread certain major gift payments over a period of years. Many St. Edward supporters have made multi-year pledges to capital campaigns, endowment funds, alumni reunion class gifts, and other special projects.

Matching Gifts

If you or your spouse work for a company that matches gifts to secondary schools, your contributions can have double the impact. Information on matching gifts is typically available in a company's personnel or human resources office. You may also contact St. Edward's Institutional Advancement Office for an informational brochure on matching gifts.
